Features:

Product Name: PPTC Resettable Fuse

Product Type: Multifuse

The polymer PTC has low resistance, low power loss, and low surface temperature.

Polymer PTCs respond faster to overcurrent than other devices.

Self-locking operation: In the overcurrent protection state, the polymer PTC locks the current in a high resistance state. When the overcurrent disappears, the power supply is restored.

Automatic reset: Polymer PTC resets itself after overcurrent protection (troubleshooting). No need to dismantle and replace.

High current resistance: Polymer PTC has excellent resistance to high current. Some specifications can withstand 100A.
